

Privacy Policy

At Mondrem we are committed to protecting our clients' data. Mondrem will never share any of your personal information with third parties without your express instruction to share it.

What information do we collect about you?

We collect contact information if you contact us directly either by email, by phone or through our website at www.mondrem.co.uk. We may also collect your information when you give permission for other parties to share it with us, and when your information is available publicly through sources like LinkedIn.

How will we use the information about you?

We collect information about you when you ask for information from us and when you ask us to provide support or services to you. We may also use your information to keep internal records for administrative purposes like invoicing and managing projects, and to let you know about changes at Mondrem that are relevant to you.

Mondrem will never rent or sell any of your information.

Marketing Communications

We may contact you from time to time to tell you about services that we think may be useful to you. You can opt out of this service at any time.

Access to your information and correcting mistakes

You have the right to request a copy of the information we hold about you. If you would like a copy of some or all of your personal information, please contact us.

We want to ensure that your personal information is up to date and accurate. If you would like us to change the information we hold about you, please contact us.
